Title: RANDOM ACCESS MEMORY (R.A.M.)
Created By: Leigh Henric Pantuab, Michael John Agocoy, Darren Hayes Aguirre
Genre: Sci-Fi / Romance / Drama
Target Audience: Teenagers / Young Adults

SYNOPSIS

RANDOM ACCESS MEMORY follows Emma and James, two IT students whose once-happy relationship deteriorates under the weight of conflict and emotional exhaustion. Desperate to heal, they seek the experimental R.A.M. procedure—a system that targets and erases the memories of a specific person. However, to delete a memory, they must first relive it. They must reconstruct their entire shared history, from the initial joyful spark to the small, intimate moments they took for granted. As they navigate their reconstructed past, they face a painful truth: is erasing their love a true fresh start, or are they losing the very thing that once defined them? Through this emotional final memory reconstruction, the story explores the choices we make to find peace and the nature of love in the face of scientific erasure.

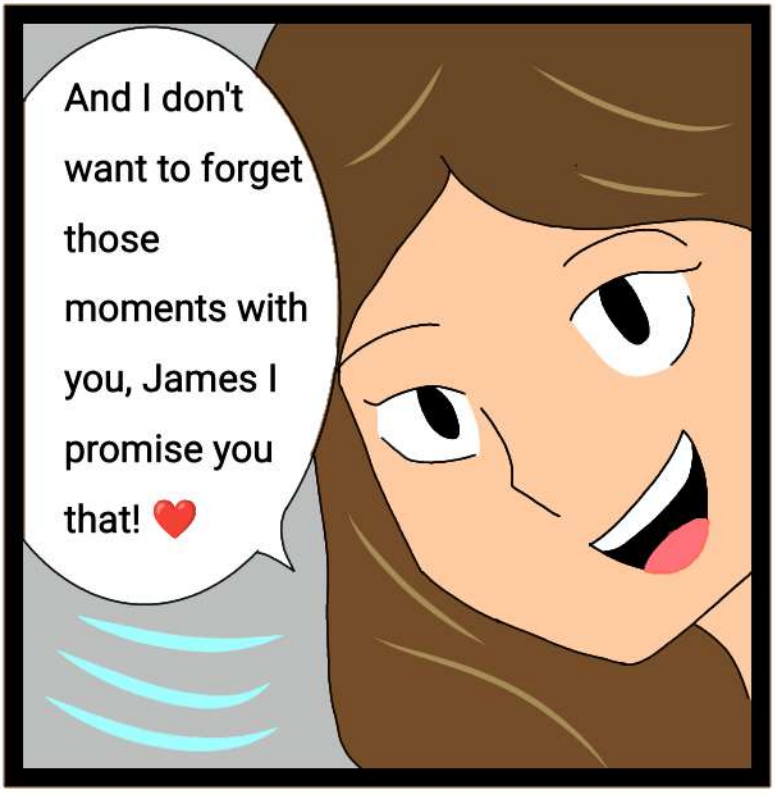

CAST OF CHARACTERS

James: A quiet and observant IT student whose reserved nature and unspoken insecurities lead to fatal misunderstandings.
Emma: An expressive and thoughtful IT student who values deep connections, but struggles when communication breaks down.
Dr. Amanda: The calm, professional specialist who guides them through the experimental R.A.M. memory reconstruction procedure.

What are you talking about, James ? ! He's just my group mate from another class. I'm telling you the truth!

As time went by, their arguments became much worse and more frequent.
And eventually... they both got tired with each other.

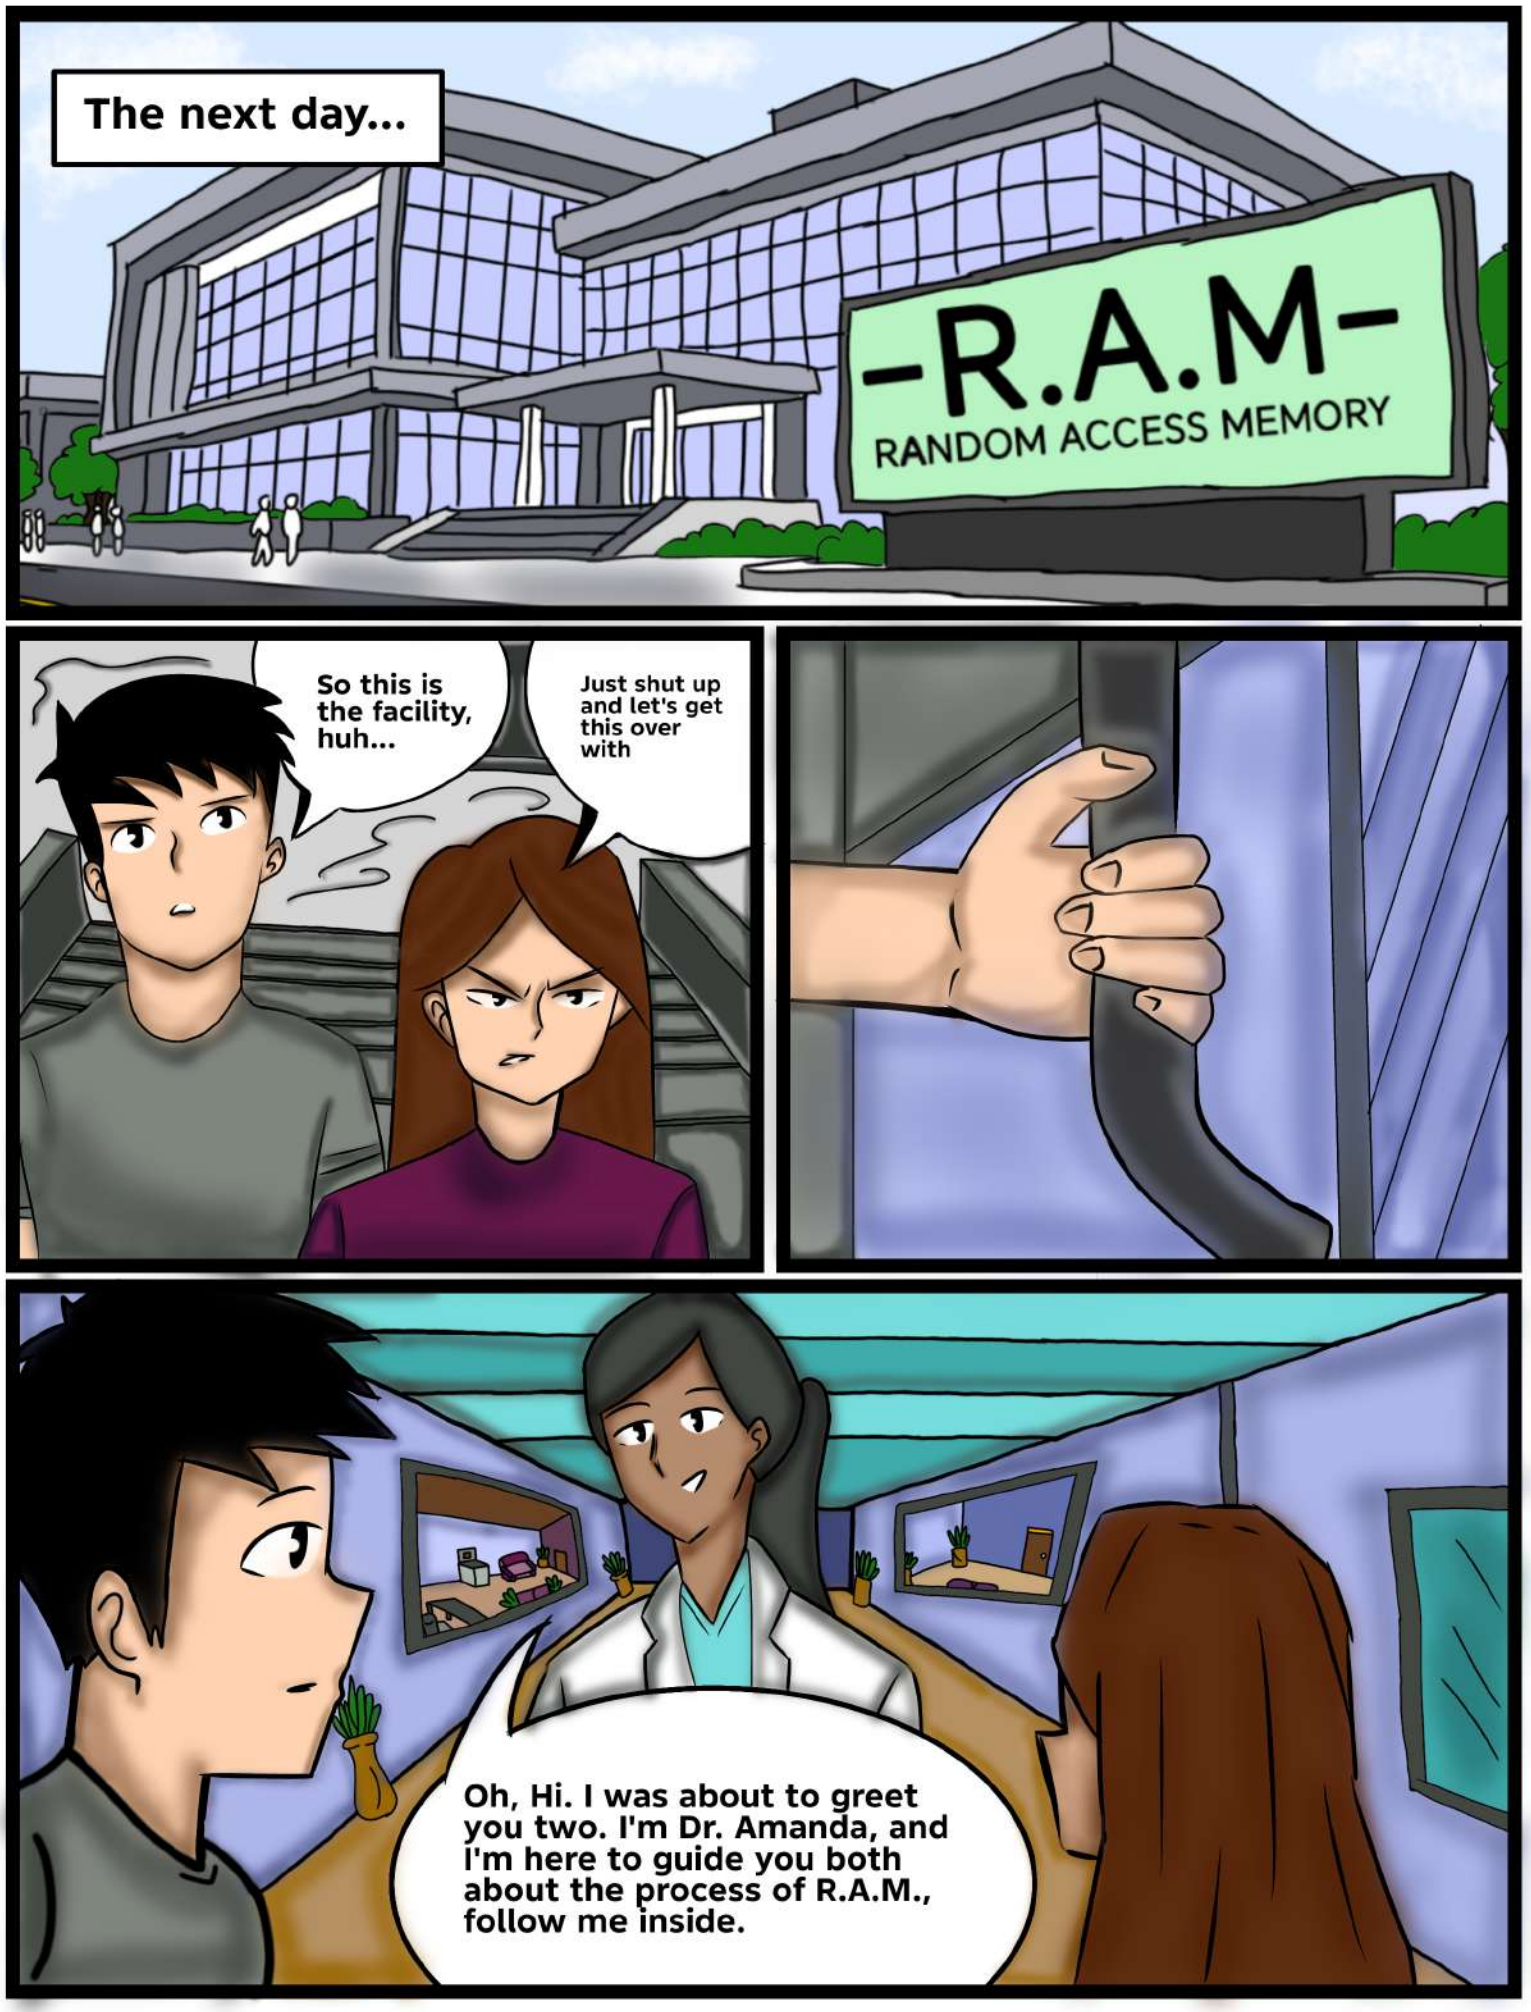

One day during their another heated argument, both of them finally snapped.
You know what? i think we should break up, Emma. There's no good in this relationship with you anymore!
Yeah, I think we should! I'm so sick and tired of you, James. We've always been like this, fighting and cursing at each other!

As they walked away from each other, tears began to fall from their eyes.
They knew the decision they had made would be difficult for both of them. But there was one thing they were certain of...
There is no going back.

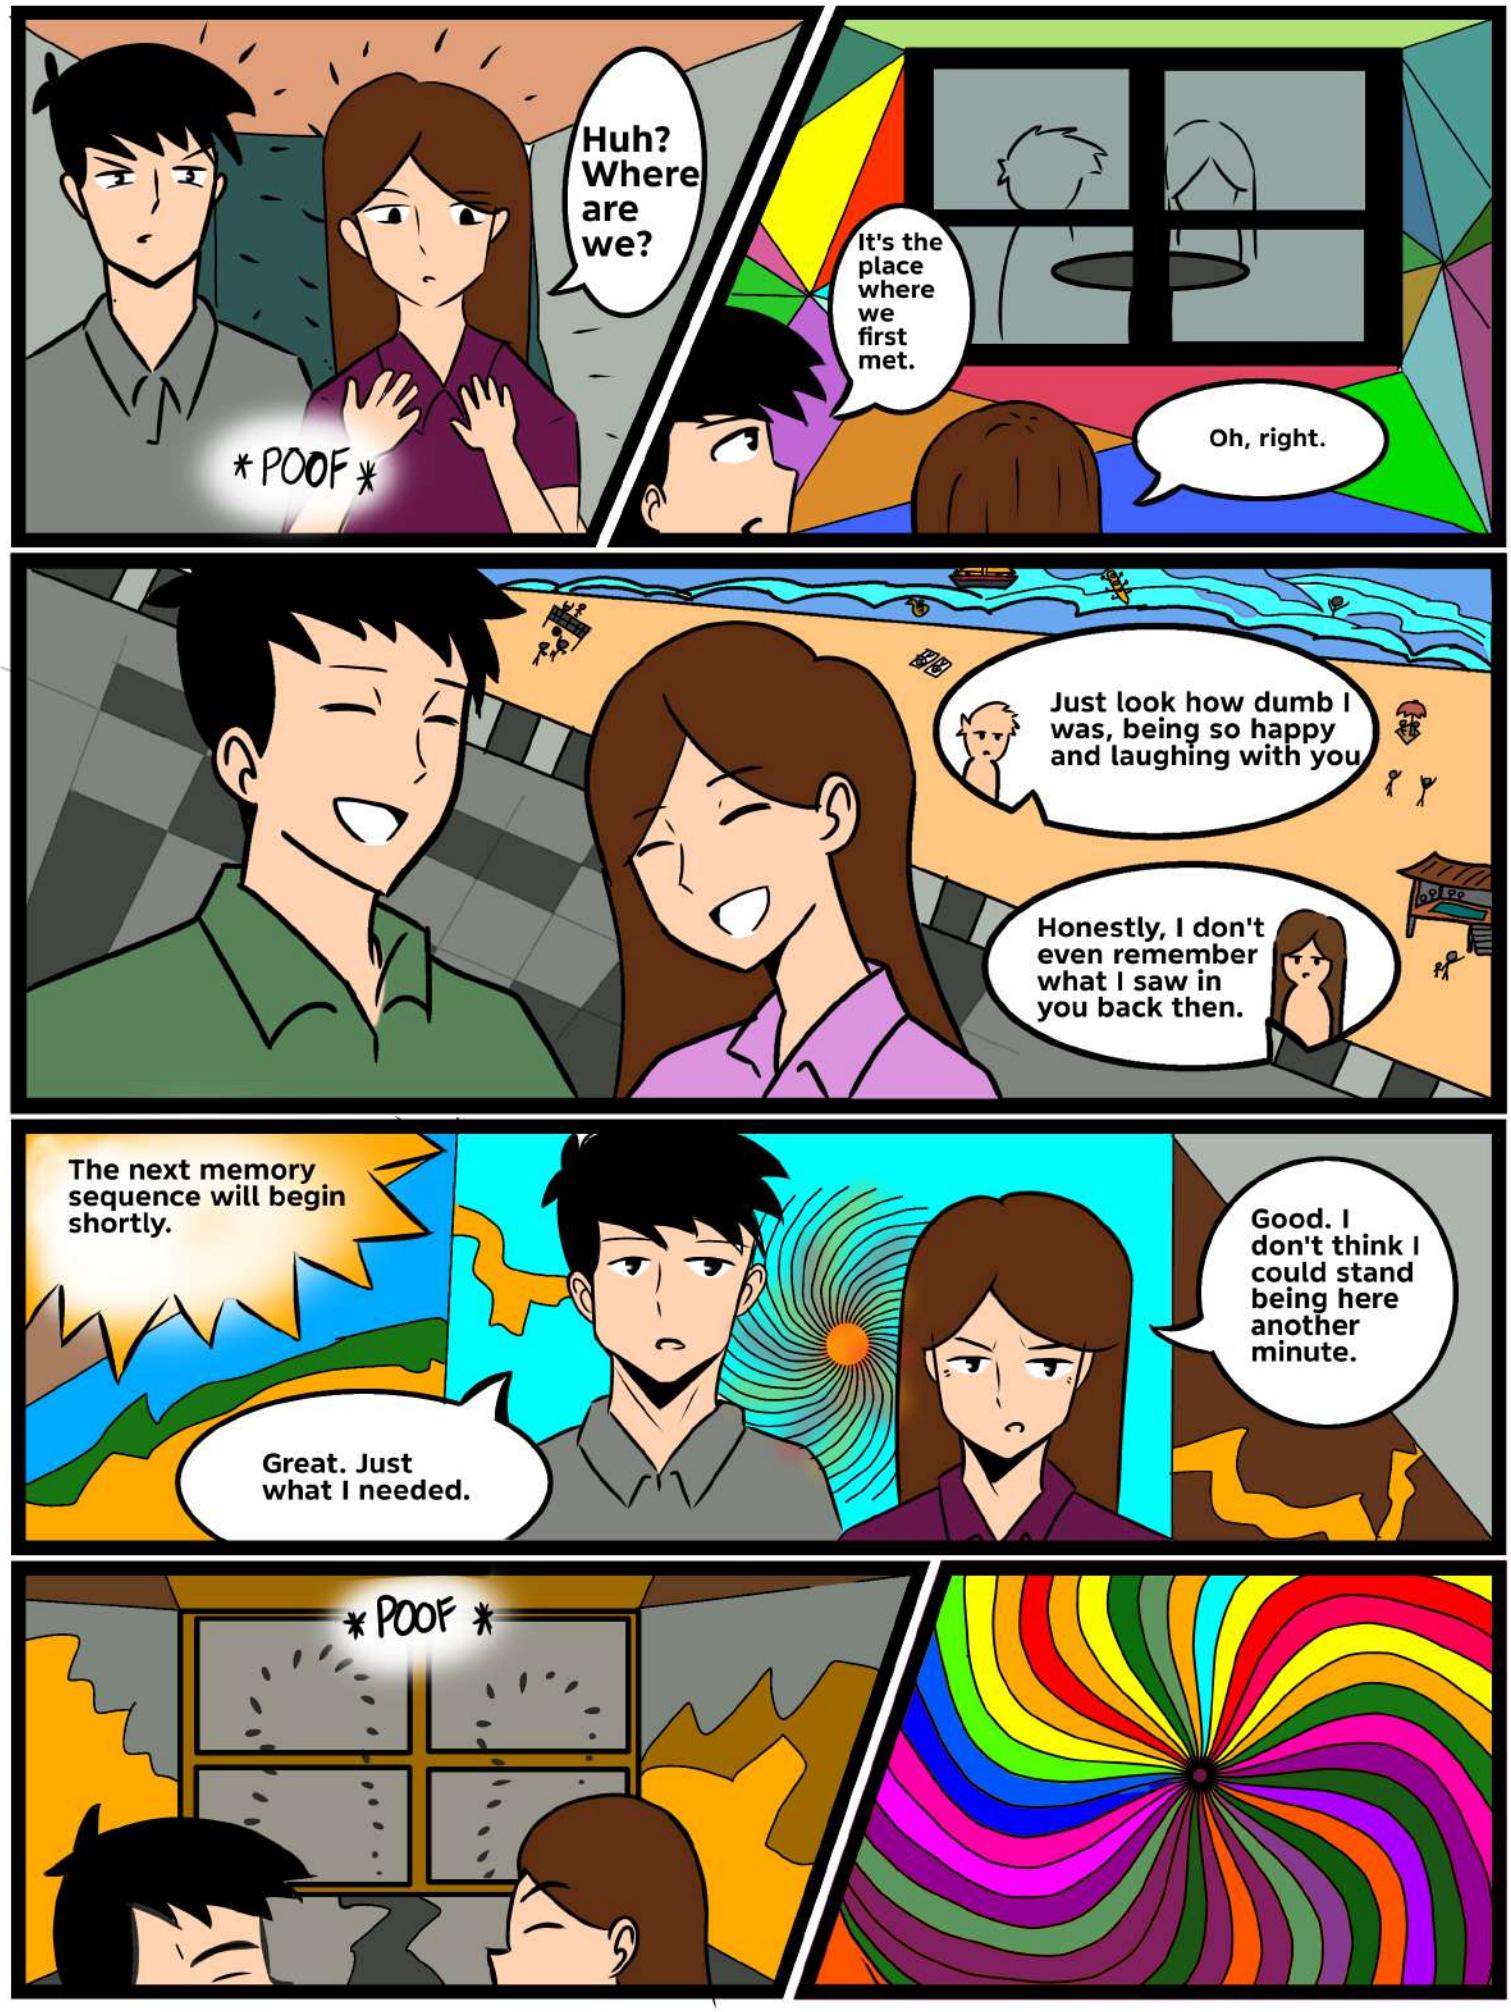

Weeks went by, yet they still couldn't forget each other. Their memories together kept replaying in their minds, affecting them more than they realized.
But deep down, they both wished for the same thing...
I wish I could just forget him/her.

The next day, as they rested at their own homes, they stumbled upon a mysterious advertisement.
